GET NEW ATHLETIC EQUIPMENT

Lockers for all the girls in both junior and senior high schools as well as for the boy's athletic teams are among the new additions to the school's equipment. The pupils plan to pay for the lockers by means of the carnival and other entertainments during the school year.

Sixty five basket lockers will just take care of the girls. Each girl will have a large, strong wire basket with a brass number and combination padlock. The baskets will sit in a large olive green, metal rack in the center of the girl's dressing room, and will be arranged in tiers five high. The baskets will allow the clothing and other equipment stored in them to air out thoroughly. Places for eighty lockers are in the rack.

Twelve lockers in a double tier will go to outstanding members of the various teams. These will be of steel construction, 15 inches square and thirty inches high with ventilation provision and combination padlocks. They will be placed in the south half of the janitor's store room, leaving more room for other boys and their equipment.

Will Fill Big Need

The new lockers fill a long felt need in the school. Valuable clothing and apparatus will be locked up, borrowing without permission will be stopped, and lost materials will be reported less often.

Probably the greatest advantage will be from the standpoint of sanitation. Each pupil will have his clothes up off the floor at all times and guarded from the use of others. In the past it has been hard to keep others from using towels that were just hanging around, thus exposing others to skin diseasee. Most of these disadvantages will be overcome with the new lockers.

The baskets for the girls' lockers have already arrived and are now in use although the rack is not here. The padlocks have also come.

CARNIVAL COMES FRI. and SAT.

Bigger and better preparations than ever have been made for the second annual School Carnival which is to be held in the school building on the evenings of October 14 and 15.

The carnival will include a big main show in two sections, a great many side shows and concessions, refreshment booths, and an exhibit of farm products and poultry. Doors will be open at 7:00 p. m. and close at 10:30 although the exhibit will be ready for inspection after 1:00 p. m.

At 8:00 p. m. the Big Show will start. Mother Goose and her children will appear from the primary room. The famous Dixie Quartet, imported especially from Alabama will reenact their well known hunting scene; Maggie herself will be there, as interpreted by Mr. Marolf; Topsy is making a special trip to do some clog dancing. The Saxophone Twins, fresh from Broadway, will put on their musical skit. WILD Prof. Lamerhard and his famous orchestra will intersperse the acts with the latest hits from San Francisco.

The second part of the show starts at 9:30. Pat and Mike will do their stuff. The High Brow players will stage Borrowing Trouble. The Long and Short of it will give their feature acts and the Jolly Tars, in real sailor suits, will bring down the house as well as the curtain with their singing and dancing acts.

Offer Many Concessions

Among the many concessions will be pop corn, candy, hot dog, and pie stands. Tom Thumb and his Wife, the Two Headed Gazup, a Photograph Gallery, the Wild Man from Borneo, The Black Bottom, Hollywood Follies, shoe shining parlor, the Seven Wonders of the World, his Magistrate, Mr. Hardfist, a beauty parlor, a fish pond, and a baseball throwing gallery. Probably the greatest attraction of all will be Madame Z of Paree, a famed fortune teller and medium.

CONTEST DOUBLES SUBSCRIPTION

Subscriptions to Woodland Echoes were doubled in an exciting campaign held in school two weeks ago. One hundred sixty local subscriptions were obtained including those with advertisments. Mail subscription were not counted.

Harold Appleton, editor-in-chief; Heward Stalnaker, circulation manager; and Ted Robinson, advertising manager, met together and divided the school into two groups. Each group met separately elected a leader, chose a name and practiced yells. Gayle Peick heading the Go-Getters and Ted Robinson leading the Busy Bees put on a contest that will long be remembered in Edgewood Hi. Mr. Marolf. on the side of the Busy Bees taught his fellow workers a contest song.

The contest continued for three days. Two strings with a label on each on the assembly room stage indicated the progress of the two opponents. A large arrow was placed on each string indicating the total number of votes obtained. A toy monkey was hung on the string of the side that had the least number of subscriptions. The object was to keep the other side from making a monkey of ones own side. The Busy Bees forged ahead during the first two days but the Go Getters pinned the monkey on them at the end when it was found that the Go Getters had won 96 to 71.

At the all school party the winners made monkeys out of the Busy Bees.

JOHN GATES JOINS STAFF

In working up the first number of volume two, the staff found it advisable to add a new member to the list of workers. The position of sports editor, just created, will be filled by John Gates. He was chosen for this position because of his connection with general athletics. John has been on the baseball team for the last three years and was a member of last year's winning basketball tournament team. He was also a soccer player last year.

PRES. GATES TALKS NINTH TIME

President Gates, head of the Waterloo Business college, gave his ninth inspirational talk before the assembly last Wednesday afternoon. He held the interest of the students by his description of Bill and Jack. two former students of his, who had equal opportunities. They sought success over different roads. One succeeded in life while the other failed. The factors of success were clearly brought out in his descriptions.

Each year President Gates offers to give his talks in the various high schools over this part of Iowa. The pupils like him as is shown by the fact that when he made his appearance on the platform Wednesday, they applauded him loudly and many had broad grins upon their faces. He comes twice a year, so he is commencing his fifth year at Edgewood. President Gates is in considerable demand as a commencement speaker and finds his time well taken up in the spring with such work.

5th-6th Take Care of Flag

The beautiful, new national flag is being taken care of again this year by the 5th and 6th grades under the direction of their new teacher, Miss Freiburghaus. They are learning how a flag should be raised, lowered, and taken care of.

Lucile Gray. in reporting for the paper says. "The school shows more pep than ever before and we are proud to be one of the peppiest schools in this part of the state."

FROSH LEAD IN ATTENDANCE

Even though some of the upper classes help bring in most of the honors, the freshmen are honored by having the largest class in school, their total being thirty-three. The sophomore class comes next with thirty. The eight grade ranks third in the two high schools with twenty-one students. Nineteen juniors fall in fourth place, whi'e only 13 seniors make up the senior class, and ten members composing the seventh grade. The senior high school enrollment is 92.

Grade Enrollment Small

The grade enrollment this year is smaller than last. Sixteen beginners make up the first grade, 14 the second, 19 the third, 12 the fourth, 15 the fifth. and 11 the sixth. The total enrollment so far for these grades is 92 and for all grades 1 to 8, 118.

In the entire school the enrollment so far is 212. There are 54 high school tuition pupils of whom 21 are new ones.

CARNIVAL COMES FRI. and SAT.

a cockerel will be put on exhibit by the students. Crates will be furnished by the school. Another addition to the exhibits will be pastries. Besides these locally grown fruits, vegetables, grains, canned goods, sewing, and a home economics exhibit will be included.

Exhibits may be brought to the school not earlier than Thursday orning. High school exhibi s will be taken to the gymnasium but those in grade rooms should take them to their teachers.

Disinfect School Daily

The school is being disinfected daily by the janitor. Using a high pressure spary pump, he fills the air with chlorine gas from what is nown as the B-K solution. This solution was discovered during the World War and has been found to be a very powerful germ killer. In addition it is a splendid material with which to stop coughing in the school. A case of whooping cough has already been found in the school. Plans call for continuous ventilation and disinfection which should keep epidemics down more than they were last year.

HOME ECS. START ACTIVITIES

By Edna Thurn

Home economics work in Edgewood high is in full swing. With fall canning. the starting of costume design in sewing, the commencement of Home Economics club activities, and the completion of improvements in the sewing room, the girls find themselves fully occupied.

Canning has taken an important part in the Home Economics course during the last month for both the ninth and tenth grades. The sophomore girls had as projects the making of apple, grape and mint jellies. They made cucumber pickles and canned corn and carrots. The ninth grade girls canned tomatoes, peaches, apples and plums. The canned goods will be used at the various banquets of the year as well as in the hot lunch.

Study Design

Costume design is now and will occupy the attention of both home economics classes during the next six weeks. The girls will apply the principles of design in their fall sewing which starts next week with the sophomores and in two weeks with the freshmen. The tenth graders will make wool dresses, some of the pupils planning to renovate their old ones.

Ninth graders will have as their first project, plain aprons. A prominent part of their work will be the planning of a complete wardrobe. Each girl will take into consideration her own personality, figure, resources and the like.

Club Starts Programs

Freshmen girls, n eighth grader is the rural schools last year, were initiated into the Home Economics club at its meeting in the sewing room, Sept. 20. The other girls had been taken into the organization last May. Helen Hansen, the new president, was in charge. After the initiatory exercises were over, a short musical program was given by the club members and games were played. The room was decorated in white and was very impressive and beautiful. Before going home, the girls were served a dainty luncheon of ice cream, wafers and fruit punch.

Other new officers not mentioned before are Lorraine Coolidge, vice-president; Helen Robinson, treasurer; Edna Thurn, chairman of the program committee.

Future programs of the club include a play that the freshmen are planing to give the sophomores soon. The name of the play, is, "To Be or Not To Be."

Miss Graves is very enthusiastic about all of the home economics work and has great plans in store for the girls. "Home Economics is the grandest course a girl can take because it can be used anywhere" she told the home economics editor.

SEWING ROOM IS REDECORATED

New and old students found the sewing room completely changed with new decorations when they came to school at the beginning of September. The improvements consist of the complete decoration of ceiling and walls and the making over of the chairs.

The ceiling is painted cream, the walls light buff and the wainscoating dark brown. An attractive design separates the coats on the walls and wainscoating. The chairs, Howard Bacon, the janitor, has reenforced and finished with two coats of walnut varnish.

OUR PAPER

Woodland Echoes, our little monthly school paper, starts on its second year's journey with this issue. The staff's wish is that it may continue to contribute to the student and community life and help Edgewood High become the center of educational life in this vicinity.

We claim for our little publication that it gives the students certain opportunities for self-development, serves today's members of the Edgewood community and the alumni, and builds for the future.

An opportunity is given to a group of students each year to try themselves out in journalism. The business management of the paper gives several experience in meeting business men and carrying responsibilities of various kinds.

The alumni section will be of special interest to former students. It will link graduates and students together in showing to the alumni what is now happening and to the students what their fore-runners are accomplishing.

The agriculture and home makers sections will be continued this year because of having proved successful last year. Agriculture and home makinging are the two outstanding occupations of the parents of our pupils.

Furnishing a written history of the school and those connected with it, it serves a purpose that would not otherwise be taken care of. The students, alumni, and other adults should subscribe for the paper and save the copies. It will provide history that cannot be duplicated.

May the paper grow with age and its influence make the school and community grow in proportion.

P. T. CLUBS ARE ORGANIZED

Organized work for the girls' physical training classes was started at the beginning of the year when the Girls' Athletic Club was organized. Two presidents, Marian Minkler and Violet Ross, were chosen to lead the club. These two presidents chose twelve girls to help them. The fourteen girls comprise the Athletic Board and call themselves "The Pepper-ettes". The girls work for points and will be awarded a pin for 25 points.

The activities together with their leaders are:
Tennis - Lucile Gray and Marion
Horseback - Marion Pilgrim and Lorraine Coolidge.
Roller skating - Dorothy Fowler and Elinor Chapman.
Bicycling - Maxine Fisher and Helen Robinson.
Volley ball - Edna Thurn and Eva Fairweather.
Hiking - Helen Hansen and Mary Todd.
Baseball - Violet Ross and Delores Putz.

Activities are carried on as part of the class work but members of the club are allowed to carry on their campaign for points outside of class.

A point is given for hygiene and the keeping of training rules. Every girl must have a hygiene point before she can get a pin.

Basketball and floor drill will be given during the winter months. Miss Ella Clough is in charge of the activities.

Improve Assembly Ventilation

Ventilation in the assembly has been greatly improved by the cutting of a hole through the wall to a large ventilator shaft that runs to the ventilation turrets on top of the roof. A metal register is to be installed in the assembly so that the air current may be regulated.

So far this fall the Edgewood team has failed to visit a school where the school spirit ran anywhere nearly as strong as at Edgewood.

RE-ESTABLISH PRIVILEGE SYSTEM

By Faye Sherman

Last year's privileged list system, a restricted honor system, is again in force covering the conduct of both junior and senior high pupils. At the end of the fourth week, the faculty made out a list of pupils whose conduct grades were A and B. The list was posted on the bulletin board and all pupils listed there are allowed a number of privileges. Among the privileges are the visiting with other pupils in the assembly and leaving the room but with certain restrictions among them being the signing out and in of the study hall and doing things only when one other is doing the same thing. The idea, as announced by Supt. Gardner, is to promote self control among the pupils who are able to have privileges without abusing them. The plan, he said, is being continued because it worked last year and the pupils and teachers liked it.

AG. CLASS SELECTS SEED CORN

(By Francis Wilson)

Selecting seed corn was a September project of the 10th grade agriculture class. Armed with gunny sacks, the boys invaded a corn field of Del Knight and brought back a collection of ears picked according to the methods decided upon in class after making a study of the matter.

The corn has been hung in the class room of Mr. Marolf, instructor in agriculture, and will be tested next spring.

On the trip, the boys found that the corn was not very well matured at that time and that many ears were not filled out as well as in other years.

In studying other fields of corn, the class decided that some fields ripened much quicker that others not because of the time of planting but because the corn was an earlier maturing variety.

Study Other Topics

Silos, ensilage, silo filling, soy beans and the liming of the soil have been some of the other topics studied by the agriculture class.

OATS YIELD FAIR CROP

Reports collected by the agricultural editors show that a fair crop was harvested by farmers living in the vicinity of Edgewood high school. The average among farms canvassed was 39.6 bushels to the acre.

Mert Nightwine, father of Nina, obtained the largest yield while Jim Cole, the father of Phillip and Ralph had the low yield crop, the smallest, he says, he ever had. Crops on the uplands seemed to have done the best and yielded the highest while those in the lowlands, due mostly to late planting and wetness were the poor yielders. The advantage also seemed to favor the early ripening varieties.

Sites Statistics

The agriculture editor collected among others, figures the following:

Earnest Ash, father of Lawrence and Leo, planted 30 acres and obtained 40 bushels from each acre. John Elsbury, father of Floyd and Walter, obtained a 44 bushel yield from his 15 acre planting. Fred Fensterman, father of Alice and Lawrence, received a high yield of 53 bushels to the acre from 15 acres; Martin Funk, father of Burr, harvest 44 bushels to the acre from 20 acres; Delbert Wilson father of Francis, got 38 bushels from each of his 12 acres; Hamer Lewis , father of Herman, had the largest planting, 65 acres, and found it yielded 33 bushels to the acre; Edward Ashline, Dale's father, reports 37 bushels to the acre from 20 acres; Charley Baker, father of Howard and Eli planted 25 acres from which he obtainel 26 bushels to the acre.

PEP IN SCHOOL RUNS HIGH

Pep, in other words, enthusiasm, is running high in the school these days. To direct them in their vocal pep demonstrations during the baseball season, the Edgewood high school students elected Violet Ross as head yell leader and Sidney Tyrrell as assistant. They have been given the title, "The Pepper Twins". The twins immediately took charge of things and led the school in a great cheering demonstration that overflowed out onto the bleachers beside the diamond at the Strawberry Point game and cheered the boys as they played.

OBSERVE CONSTITUTION WEEK

Constitution week was observed by Edgewood on September 15 when a constitution program was given by representatives from the history classes in the junior and senior high schools.

Fay Sherman and Harold Appleton represented the 12th American history class, Marion Minkler the modern history class and Eva Robinson and Elinor Chapman the eighth grade American history class.

All the students repeated "The Allegiance to the Flag" under the leadership of Miss Clifton, history teacher, who had charge of the program.

On September 23, a party was held by the girls athletic board, at the home of Veryl Madison. A few party games were played and light refreshments served, after which an executive session was held.

WIN ONE, LOSE THREE GAMES

Three games lost and one won is the baseball record of the season so far this year, Earlville having taken both games played with it and Strawberry Point dividing the exchange.

From the spectators standpoint, the game at Strawberry Point is the game to be remembered, which was won by the score of 18 to 6 on Sept. 23. In the first inning, Newman, our lead-off man, was out on a grounder to first, then Robinson, playing third, started the ball rolling, figuratively speaking, but actually flying, and before the first inning was over the score stood 12 to 0 in favor of the Orange and Black. Beyers, recruit left handed pitcher for Edgewood, was in the box with Stalnaker behind the plate. Everyone played a wonderful game for Edgewood and few errors were made. M. Alderson, Strawberry Point's regular pitcher was knocked from the box and Stafford, following him, did a little better but was unable to stop the Edgewood boys.

Strawberry Takes Opener

Strawberry took the first game of the season. The contest on the local diamond, filled with surprises and furious playing as well as persistent rooting ended with the score 9 to 8.

Robinson pitching the first four and the last two innings, struck out 13. Beyer, taking the box in the fifth, also struck out one. Stafford for the opponents whiffed 8. Poor headwork by the Edgewood players and the inability to deliver the deciding punch together with costly errors lost the game for Edgewood.

The lineup below shows the typical one for Edgewood so far this season:

Edgewood	position	Strawberry Pt.
Sevey	Catch	Lang
Robinson	Pitch	Stafford
Kramer	1st	M. Alderson
Stalnaker	s. s.	Gladwin
Gates	2nd	Barnes
Weyant	3rd	Flielhic
Appleton	L. F.	Cassidy
Peick	C. F.	Lehnertz
Stering	R. F.	W. Alderson

Among other players for Edgewood have been Jewell, Scovel, and Newman.

Earlville Wins Two

Earville won both of its games with Edgewood by close scores. At Earlville, in the second game of the year, Edgewood H. S. retained a commanding lead until the seventh inning but was unable to withstand what seemed to be an irresistable tide that set in in favor of the enemy in that last inning of the game. Edgewood p'ayed good ball except when two runners ruined a great batting rally in the fifth inning when they failed to touch the bases after making extra base hits. Earlville and the officials saw the misplay and result was two outs that ended the inning.

Edgewood fell down badly in the last game here with Earlville on Sept. 30, losing by the score of 5 to 1. Edgewood had its chance in the fifth when with bases loaded, three players were out in a row. Inability to practice during the rainy weather and possibly poor training figured in Edgewood's defeat. Beyers pitched the first four innings and was relieved by Robinson in the fifth.

To Play Lamont-Delhi

Lamont was met on its own diamond Friday in one of the attractions of its School fair. Lamont plays here October 18.

Delhi will be met Oct. 11 on its own diamond.

Will Give Fire Program

A week will be set aside again this year for instruction in fire prevention. Fire prevention day will be observed in the high school with a program. The governor has not yet announced the dates.

SOCIAL LIFE BECOMES ACTIVE

Parties have been held by nearly every high school organization since school began. Most of them have taken place in the evening after school and were ended at 8 p. m., according to the rules of the school. The affair was the climax of the Woodland Echoes subscription campaign which had started Tuesday and continued through the week. The winning Go-Getters formed a double file through which the losing Busy Bees were admitted to the gym. Ted Robinson, losing captain, came first, and the monkey was put on him as well as a paper tail. As he went through the lines a deafening roar went up from the victors. The seniors were in charge of this part of the program. The entire Busy Bee side was admitted in this way, each having a paper monkey and a tail pinned to him.

During the evening, group games were played and class stunts put on under the direction of the juniors. The ninth graders were the victors in the tug of war. The seniors took charge of the initiation of the ninth graders and new-comers. They were put through an old-fashioned canvas fire escape, sliding from the gym balcony to the gym floor while the seniors tossed them up and down. As they emerged, their faces were decorated with green chalk.

At 9:30 refreshments, consisting of a lolli-pop and all day sucker and costing five cents, were served by the freshmen and sophomores.

The party broke up at 10:30 p. m.

Seniors Entertain Juniors

Tuesday evening the seniors entertained the juniors in the school house. Exciting gymnasium games were played. Nearly all members were present. After the games, the seniors escorted their guests to the sewing room where refreshments were served. The festivities were ended early in the evening.

There was a junior class party on Friday, Sept. 17 in the school gymnasium. All juniors but one were present. Games were played in the gym after which refreshments were served, consisting of salad, rolls, grape fudge, ice cream and cookies. Miss Graves, the class sponsor helped plan and carry out the affairs of the evening.

Sophomores-Juniors Entertain

On September 23 the sophomores gathered in the gymnasium for their Friday evenng party. Miss Swordes, the class sponsor, and Miss Clifton were present. Games such as "Lose Your Supper and "Three Deep" were played. Dorothy Fowler furnished music on the ukelele. A light lunch which consisted of cocoa, potato salad, pickles, cookies, ice cream and wafers was partaken of at 9:45 p. m. Soon after this all departed for their homes declaring that they had all had a good time and hoped to have another party such as a sleigh ride soon.

ORGANIZE SCHOOL BAND

Musical opportunities have been extended to a large group of Edgewood school pupils through steps taken to organize a school band. Friday, as a result of a campaign conducted a week ago, a group of ten new musicians were started taking band instrument lessons. The work under the direction of F. DiTella and conducted by a special teacher, John Collins of Dubuque, will put things in shape so that weekly band rehearsals may start by December 1.

Pupils down through the fourth grade are taking lessons. They have thirty days in which to decide whether or not they will continue. So great will be the value of a school band to the community, the commercial club has loaned its bass drum, euphonium, and tuba to the school to aid in the movement.

Orchestra Continues

Experiencel players will make up the school orchestra during the coming year. Having as a nucleus the fifteen remaining players who played in the public performances down town during the summer, new members will be admitted by Mr. DiTella the director, as fast as they become able to play the harder orchestra music.
